The schoolmaster of Oostzaan that mentions Jan's death was painful may have been in a bio of Claes Compaen as that was where he died. A biography on his piratical career, The Life of Claes G. Compaen, was published in Amsterdam by De Groot in 1715 (an internet search did not locate the work); a 1659 biography does mention Jan. Perhaps one of the following contains a citation for that work:
